

OVERVIEW

Upon completion of the Life and Death module, students will gain knowledge and understanding of the moral and ethical themes that underpin our society. Students will be able to understand arguments for and against such themes from a range of religious and non-religious perspectives. This in turn builds students' tolerance, acceptance and mutual respect of a range of different viewpoints towards societal matters such as abortion and euthanasia. Students will also explore the different religious and non-religious perspectives as to what extent equality is celebrated. As a result of studying this module, students will gain the knowledge and understanding of the protected characteristics outlined within the Equality Act 2010 such as: gender, sexuality, disability and race. Acquiring this knowledge prepare students to make a positive contribution to with wider SCA community and for life beyond SCA.
